

Keeping Safe

Q1 Explain to each person why what they're saying isn't really common sense:

a)

Naive Nelly

"Everyone I've ever met was really great. Everyone I know now is really great. So I reckon everyone I'm going to meet from now on is going to be really great."

b)

Paranoid Pete

"You never know when the next psycho or rapist or escaped serial murderer is going to come round the corner. That's why I stay at home with my budgies."

Q2 What's the better option in each pair below? Explain why.

a) Walking home the long way along the main roads with streetlighting.
Cutting through the alleys and down by the canal.

b) It's pouring with rain and a stranger pulls over and offers you a lift. You take it.
It's pouring with rain and a stranger pulls over and offers you a lift. You don't take it.

c) Sarah's in a club with her mates. Sarah thinks she sees a man drop something in her mate Lisa's glass while she's dancing, so she goes and pours it away. Lisa's really annoyed.
Sarah's in a club with her mates. She thinks she sees someone drop something in her mate Lisa's glass. She thinks, "That's a bit funny."

d) Lisa gets chatting to some blokes. She's a bit tipsy. They ask her back to their flat. She goes.
Lisa gets chatting to some blokes. She's a bit tipsy. They ask her back to their flat. She asks for their phone number and says she'll come round in the week.

Q3 You're a bloke walking home at night on your own. You see a woman alone ahead of you on the pavement. Should you:

a) Speed up and overtake her?

b) Just keep walking at the same distance from her?

c) Cross to the other side of the road?

Q4 If you're being attacked are you more likely to get help if you shout "Rape!" or "Fire!"?
